GOLF COURSES

JOCKEY CLUB ARGENTINO / PILARÁ COUNTRY CLUB
NORDELTA GOLF CLUB / PILAR GOLF CLUB

JOCKEY CLUB ARGENTINO

The Jockey Club is the most traditional club in Argentina. Founded in 1880, it boasts 36 holes designed by the "greatest designer of the 20th century," Dr. Alister MacKenzie (architect of Augusta National and Cypress Point). Its two courses (Blue and Red) are very strategic, offering a significant challenge for low-handicap players while being friendly for high-handicap golfers. Over its century-long history, it has hosted the Argentine Open, the World Cup, and the European Tour, events that welcomed legends like Arnold Palmer, Sam Snead, Tom Watson, Gary Player, Craig Stadler, and Byron Nelson, among others.*

PILARÁ COUNTRY CLUB

It is the first golf course built by the Jack Nicklaus Design Studio in Latin America, which implies a significant personal commitment from JACK himself throughout the entire process. The Championship tees measure 7,126 yards, and the shorter tees measure only 5,083 yards, with 76 bunkers along the course and an average green size of 450 square meters. Eight of the holes are protected by water hazards that require precise shots to place the ball in the exact spot.

NORDELTA GOLF CLUB

This challenging and modern par 72 course, measuring 7,278 yards, features all the typical characteristics of a Jack Nicklaus design. Waste hazards, large lagoons, and multiple bunkers protecting the landing areas require precise shots and patience to achieve a decent result. With its four tees, golfers of all levels will have the opportunity to appreciate the strategic defenses of each of the eighteen holes.

PILAR GOLF CLUB

One of the best courses in Argentina, with 27 holes, offers great difficulty and experience for all levels. The championship course is a par 72, measuring 7,123 yards, and has received excellent reviews across the country. The course is open with mounds on the sides of the fairways and water on a good number of holes. The fairways are Bermuda grass and are in very good condition year-round. The greens are Bent grass and have good speed.
